THE CONSTITUTION

My thesis and the project that goes along with it are called

"The Constitution". To clarify, this name has nothing to do with the legislative document, it is merely a "composition of something", each paragraph of text that I write and works that I make are the constitutive parts of the holistic constitution of my imaginary.

My graduation project "The Constitution" will be a physical space and also a digital (wikimedia) infrastructure that will (like a net) capture and compose the totality of all of these works (past and present and future), and generate connections in-between them, as well as archive them and make them public.

In my work, I am dialogical - I communicate, exchange and share with others (the public and/or my co-creators). I gather my knowledge from my actual experiences that I analyse, study and learn from.

As much as I love improvisation, I am also inclined towards the structuralization of it all. My thesis, my written work is a reflection of that. I attempt to trace the friction points between improvisation&composition or chaos&structure - in my thinking/writing/making process and in the broader world.

Neurologul Rebecca Saxe a prezentat cea mai frumoasă "fotografie" a anului. De fapt, imaginea unei rezonanțe magnetice surprinsă în momentul în care o mamă își sărută fiul de numai două luni. Buzele puse pe cășorul omulețului declanșează, imediat, în creierul acestuia, o reacție. Se eliberează dopamină, cea care ne dă senzația de bine, dar și oxitocină, botezată "hormonul iubirii", pentru că este responsabilă cu afecțiunea și cu atașamentul. Sărutul provoacă o reacție chimică... See More
